At our annual January meeting, the Dayton View Historic Association (DVHA) members elected our new board members. We welcome our newest board members and continue to thank our continuing board members. As you'll see below, there are some new members joining the board. But even though these names may be new to you, these newly elected board members have been a part of the neighborhood for quite some time. Come to our next meeting and meet the neighbors that are here to help maintain our beautiful neighborhood.
